New Technique To Find Cancer Of Stomach

'Radiant Balloon'
System Described
By U. S. Surgeon

Most of the patients who have been treated by the new technique have been found to have cancer of the stomach. The new technique, known as the "radiant balloon" system, was described today by Dr. Norman R. Ackerman of the University of Minnesota Medical School. The new technique involves the use of a small, inflatable balloon that is inserted into the stomach. The balloon is then inflated and a radioactive substance is injected into it. The substance then spreads throughout the stomach, allowing the doctor to see the entire organ.

Four Highway Deaths Make Weekend Toll 11

Deaths of Kaukauna Man, Woman Late
This Morning Climax Bloody 60-Hour
Period on Fox Cities Area Roads

The bloodiest 60 hours in years brought death to two more on Fox Cities area roads just before noon today. In all, 11 died in the weekend period.

Mrs. Jenny Kerrigan, 72, route 2, Kaukauna, and Lloyd Ehnard, 35, Wrightstown, died in a car-truck crash about 11:10 a.m. five miles north of Kaukauna on U.S. 41.

James Bronk, 23, Custer, and Wilbur F. Winkenwerder, 45, Medina, died Sunday and seven victims of one crash in Shawano County were killed Saturday.

Mrs. Kerrigan and Ehnard were in a car that was traveling south on U.S. 41 and collided with a loaded semi-trailer truck throwing them into two lanes of traffic.

The motor of the Kerrigan car was found 50 feet from the wreckage in a field. The car was destroyed. Wreckage and canned goods from the truck were littered in a 100-foot radius of the impact point.

Injured were Andrew Wachsen, 52, of Skokie, Ill., the truck driver, who received cuts and bruises to both legs. Elmer Kerrigan, was treated for minor cuts and released, and Pat Kerrigan, received a cut to his scalp, cuts to stomach and foot. He is in Kaukauna Community Hospital.

Kaukauna, Outagamie County and state police were at the scene of the accident. They theorized that a rat was found in the Kerrigan car just before the impact and the driver of the car swerved and skidded into the left lane in front of the truck. There were long skid marks and parts of the highway were gouged. A dead rat was found near the Kerrigan car.

The driver of the Kerrigan car was not known. Outagamie County coroner Bernard H. Kemps said he will take fingerprints of the driver of the car. The driver of the truck was not known. The truck was a 1959 Chevrolet.

The 14-nation conference assembled to deal with the crisis reached agreement last Wednesday. Since then the foreign ministers gathered to sign the treaty have been occupied with other, unsettled problems, especially Berlin, Germany, nuclear testing and disarmament.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko have met twice for long talks on the major East-West issues. Both Gromyko and Rusk have indicated that the agreement included two documents plus a declaration of neutrality and a protocol covering the withdrawal of foreign troops from Laos.

Nationwide Strike Launched in Peru

LIMA, Peru (AP) — The powerful Workers Confederation of Peru began a nationwide strike today to protest the overthrow of constitutional government by a military junta.

The junta, facing its severest test so far, had threatened prosecution for agitators and others provoking illegal work stoppages. Early reports indicated government pressure had blunted the strike's effect.

27 Die in Jetliner Crash in Honolulu

Disaster Occurs During Emergency Landing Attempt

HONOLULU, AP — Twenty-seven persons, including two infants, died today when a disabled Canadian Pacific turbojet airliner with 40 persons aboard crashed and burned in an emergency landing attempt.

The Federal Aviation Agency said the bid Britannia aircraft which originated in Vancouver, B.C., was en route to Sydney, Australia, and Auckland, New Zealand, via Honolulu when one of engines apparently failed shortly after takeoff here.

The craft left Honolulu International Airport with 29 passengers and 11 crewmen and returned about 45 minutes later after the pilot dumped fuel over the Pacific in preparation for the landing.

D. J. Tierney, FAA spokesman, said the plane approached the runway for a normal landing on three engines at 11:19 p.m. But then skidded into a mass of grass and equipment nearby, the fuselage snapped and the engines burst into flames.

The wreckage was strewn over an area the size of a football field. The condition of the survivors, who were taken to nearby Hickam Air Force Base Hospital, was not immediately known.

The FAA said the pilot notified its control tower he was cutting one of the engines soon after take-off. He requested and was granted permission to dump fuel for the emergency landing, officials said.

Tierney said when the aircraft approached the runway it suddenly veered to its left. No pickup 135.

Arman 20, Ray Fisher, 25, of Haddon Heights, N. J., stationed at Hickham Air Force Base, was among the first at the scene. He gave this account:

"The explosion woke me up. It sounded like it was outside by a window. I thought it was a car crash at the air base. We could see the plane burning and rushing over to the main runway."

The engines were separated from the plane. A couple of wings were also separated.

Tax Cut Could Be Boomerang To Both Parties

Politically Risky For Congressmen's Votes on Bill

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Almost every body outside of Congress would have to agree a bill passed now to cut income taxes would be a boomerang to both parties. Almost everybody outside of Congress would have to agree a bill passed now to cut income taxes

These paradoxes extend to the White House, too. President Kennedy isn't sure that this is the time for a new set of income tax rates. Most of his advisers think now is just the time.

The contradictions are easily explained. Everybody is for the idea of a tax cut, but, if the rates are changed, many voters are bound to be disappointed. Politically, it's risky for a member of Congress to have voted for any reduction in tax rates for the wealthy and failed to give the benefit at virtually the entire cut to the voters in the lower brackets.

Politically Hazardous

Politically speaking, too, it's hazardous for members of both parties to rush a tax bill through just before the November elections, when the voters will be especially well informed about the failure of Congress to give them the tax cut they expected to get.

Then there are the voters who just don't believe it's wise from the standpoint of the national economy deliberately to pile up the large deficit that surely would follow a tax cut.

The argument that business will be spurred and tax receipts will be increased somewhat so as to offset the deficit in part doesn't register very deeply with those voters who see dangers in a continuation of an unbalanced budget. If there's a bigger treasury deficit, moreover, the effect may be felt in a lack of confidence abroad in the gold value of the dollar. It may be reflected also in higher interest rates at home.

The theory of the advocates of an "across the board" tax cut is that it gives the people more money to spend, and that this acts as a spur to business. It hasn't proved that way in the past. Spending for consumer goods has held up fairly well anyway in recent months. A tax cut for a man without a job isn't particularly helpful.

Not Much Help

Job creation, moreover, comes out of the steady expansion of all branches of business. Today unemployment is largely centered in the heavy-goods industries. These would not be materially helped by the increases in consumer spending for a short-term period.

It is no answer to say, as the theorists do, that there is plenty of idle plant capacity now anyway. Actually, what's needed is new plant and equipment and modernization so as to reduce manufacturing costs and prices and bring about an increase in the total volume of sales in various classes of goods.

A selective formula is all-important so that certain rates in corporation taxes and regulations covering tax deductions for various items may be modified in one direction or a stimulus for long-term investment in plant and machinery. The rate of demand on the part of some respects, the tax cut isn't being treated as a stimulus for long-term investment in plant and machinery.

Rain That Pelts Immobile Charlie Feeds Brook, Then Lake, Then River

BY CHARLES HOUSE
 Post-Crescent Staff Writer

IT IS WITH A MEAN — a hard, cold rainfall today kept the rain and my camera played dead immobile in this hail-dominated city of Red Wing, Minn.

House

On the rainfall which has lasted for more than 24 hours, the probable date, by today, into a true season of snow, which comes into Minnesota's Lake Superior 100 miles from the Canadian border.

One hundred and thirty years ago, Henry Rowe Schoolcraft located the source of the Mississippi there at that wedge-shaped lake into which the little Brook flows.

It was Schoolcraft who named it "Pika" — a name from Latin words — "Pika" means "head" and "Pika" means "head" of the great river. Schoolcraft's accurate position of the headwaters of the Mississippi answered the question men had been asking for 200 years.

As well, Red Wing's active chamber of commerce might plan to use it, and Red Wing's 11,000 people might approve, even if the fact would not.

Los Angeles Angels Lose to Indians, 7-3 But Gain on Yankees

Senators Pull Double Surprise On AL Leaders

BY JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Somebody down here must like the Angels.
Even when they lose, the Los Angeles Angels gain. They were finally stopped 7-3 by the Cleveland Indians Sunday after winning five straight. But they still picked up a half game on the New York Yankees, and now trail the American League leaders by three games. The Yankees surprisingly dropped both ends of a double-header to last place Washington 3-2 and 8-3.
The Angels' lofty station defies in all laws of mathematics. They are seventh in team batting, eighth in home runs, ninth in fielding and 10th in pitching. Complete games, but second in the standings with the 53 victories against 41 defeats.

Break Loss Skein
Third place Minnesota missed a golden opportunity to close in on the Angels, bowing to Baltimore 8-4 while Chicago's White Sox downed Boston's Red Sox 7-3 as a tiebreaker. Floyd Robinson had a record tying 6-for-6 at the plate. Kansas City whipped Detroit 11-3. Willie Kirkland and Jerry Kin-

Gary Player Adds PGA Crown to List Of Tourney Laurels

Goalby Misses Birdie Putt on Last Shot, Loses by One Stroke

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (AP)—Gary Player, an intense little South African to whom golf is a way of life as well as a good source of income, has accomplished three quarters of his ambitions—winning three of the world's top four championships. And who do you suppose gets the major credit? Arnie Palmer, a guy who won't be satisfied until he wins all four in one year.

Player, winner of the British Open championship in 1959 and the Masters title in 1961, added the United States Professional Golfers Association title to his list Sunday when he finished one stroke ahead of swarthy Bobby Goalby in what he called "the most exciting game I've ever had."

Player shot a 70 for 278, 2-under-par for the 72 holes. Goalby's 67 left him a stroke back at 279. The only major title Player has missed is the U.S. Open championship. His best "go" in that one came in 1958 when he trailed Tommy Bolt by only one stroke.

Player, trying to relax after a closing day which kept a record gallery of 18,000 on edge until the last shot, said there was one thing he had learned just before this tournament. "I finally realized I couldn't outdo him."

"I had been playing a lot of exhibitions with (Arnold) Palmer," he said. "I always thought driving was one of my good points, but I finally realized I couldn't outdo him."

"Sunday I never used a driver off the tee. I generally used a four wood and I never missed a fairway. The most important thing to me was to keep the ball in play." Player started the final round two strokes in front of George Bayer, a one-time football player for the Washington Redskins, and Bob McCallister, who quit football in his freshman year in high school after suffering a couple of concussions. Goalby quickly moved up as the No. 1 challenger.

"I'm not a very good leader," he said.

Foxes Play at Clinton After Postponement

The Fox Cities Foxes' game with Waterloo was postponed Sunday night because of rain. The contest will be made up when Waterloo returns Aug. 31 and Sept. 1.

The Foxes left this morning for Clinton where they will tangle with the C-Sox tonight and Tuesday evening. Allan Ruffe is slated to be Fox Cities' mound nomination in the first game of the series.

The team will travel to Cedar Rapids for games Wednesday and Thursday evenings, then return home to play Post to the same Braves Friday and Saturday.

MENASHA — Howie Manthey spared eight Menasha hits in his first loss of the second round, but the team won 9-1 over the Macs here Sunday afternoon.

The victory gives Freedom a 3-0 lead in the league. Freedom's win was their first since the defeat by their first round opponent, the Macs.

Freedom got enough runs in the first inning when Red Gernert, who had a bases-empty homer and Dick Zerkowky, slugged a 2-run current drive. The winners added a pair in the seventh and closed with four in the eighth. The Macs scored their only run in the eighth.

Manthey gave an indication of things to come when in the first inning after "Buster" Kerkstra, Neil Hapke and Bob Kerkstra notched six runs, including a pair from Bill Johnson, Glen Murray and Carl Stenstrom, in the first inning.

WALKS ONLY 2
The Freedom team walked only two batters in the game. The Macs walked only one batter in the game.

Erase Phils' 8-1 Lead In Opener

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Braves were in a raw-meat mood today as they prepared to meet the New York Yankees in a test of Milwaukee's new found power.

The sixth-place Braves hopped over the .500 mark Sunday by pounding out 24 hits, three of them home runs, in sweeping a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Phillies, winning the first 11-10 on a tremendous comeback and the second 5-2 on the sharp pitching of rookies Denny Lemaster and Claude Raymond.

The sweep gave the Braves four victories in the five-game series. They were in Cooperstown, N.Y., today to meet the Yankees in the Hall of Fame exhibition game set for this afternoon.

Take 8-1 Lead
The Phillies used up Bob Shaw, Tony Cloninger and Carl Willey in the first three innings of the first game, taking an 8-1 lead in the second inning. Roy McMillan launched the Braves successfully on the comeback trail with his 11th homer, a two-run blast in the third. The homer figure is a new career high for the slick-fielding shortstop.

The Braves took the lead for keeps with seven runs in the fourth inning. Joe Adcock, who hit a pair of homers Saturday night and another in the second game, started the drive with a single.

Bob Uecker singled and Tommy Aaron walked to fill the bases. After Frank Bolling flied out, Ken Aspromonte sent Adcock and Uecker home with a punch single. Lou Johnson walked to fill the bases again. Aaron scored on an error by Phillie third baseman Don Demeter on McMillan's roller.

Eddie Mathews drove a double to right center, scoring Aspromonte, Johnson and McMillan. Mathews went to third as Hank Aaron was thrown out and scored as Adcock came up with his second hit of the inning, a long double into the light fixtures in right center. Uecker grounded out to end the inning.

Hank Aaron, who had hit his 25th home run leading off in the second, cracked a triple to left scoring the singling McMillan to close out the Milwaukee scoring in the sixth.

Third of Game
Wes Covington hit his sixth homer, and third of the game for the Phillies, in the eighth. Roy Sievers had hit his 13th and Tony Gonzalez his 16th earlier.

Don Nottebart, Milwaukee's fourth hurler, held the Phillies to four hits in the last six innings and took the victory, his first against two defeats. Jack Bald-

Rain Forces Postponement of Final Round

Heavy rains washed out the scheduled final round of action in the Appleton Recreation Department's twelfth annual Fox Valley softball tournament on the Telah Park diamond Sunday night.

Title Game to be Played Tuesday Night

The Valley softball tournament finals have been rescheduled for Tuesday night at Telah Park. The first game will start at 7:15 p.m. and the championship tussle at 8:30.

Play in the semi-final stage of the tourney was completed Sunday afternoon, moments before a tempestual thunderstorm converted the diamond into a small lake. Thorough work by the ARD's ground crew permitted the Sunday evening session to get underway. But, rain stopped play with

McKinley Meets Fred Stolle for Clay Court Title

Marty Riessen Replaces Reed On Cup Team

CHICAGO (AP)—Chuck McKinley, U.S. Davis Cup ace, and Fred Stolle of Australia, No. 1 foreign seed, tangle today for the national clay court tennis championship.

After the match, McKinley will head the U.S. team to Mexico City for practices leading to the American Zone cup semifinals Aug. 4.

Marty Riessen, Big Ten champion from Northwestern, was a new addition to the team Sunday. He was named by captain Bob F. Reher to replace Whitney Reed, who was scratched to the Pennsylvania Grass Court Tournament in Merion to try to recapture his form.

To Rejoin Team

If the U.S. team of McKinley, Jon Douglas, Frank Froehling, Dennis Ralston, Don Dell and Riessen is successful against the favored Mexicans, his American Zone finals will be against Yuzo-slovic at Rye N.Y., Aug. 18-19. In all probability, Reed will rejoin the team then, Kelleher said.

McKinley, top-seeded in the domestic bracket for the clay court meet, whipped third-seeded Douglas 6-4, 6-2 Sunday. The 25-year-old Stolle, recent Wimbledon doubles winner with Bob Hewitt, overpowered unseeded Bill Lenoir, University of Arizona student, 6-1, 5-7, 6-4.

Stolle and McKinley have met only once before in tournament competition. The Aussie beat him in the semifinals this spring at Brevard, England, en route to winning that championship.

Second Foreigner

Dorota Floyd of Vancouver, B.C., a second former national doubles champion, from William & Mary and a semifinalist last year, won the women's title with a 6-3, 6-1 triumph over Carol Caldwell, Santa Monica, Calif. Miss Floyd, ranked 16th nationally, and 19-year-old Miss Caldwell, No. 9, were unseeded for the tournament.

Cliff H. of Long Beach, Calif., and Sue Blum of Los Angeles won the women's doubles crown by defeating Mary Lou Hines and Julie K. 6-2, 6-0.

Mary Samples Wins in Water Ski Tournament

Mary Samples, 16, of Appleton, won the water ski tournament Sunday at Telah Park. She was the only girl to complete the course in under 10 minutes.

gin, clubbing Chicago 13-6 in a game that was halted because of rain after 6 1/2 innings. Second place San Francisco edged Pittsburgh 5-4. St. Louis took Houston 3-1 and Milwaukee swept a couple of Philadelphia, 11-10 and 5-2.

New York, which is now 39 games behind Los Angeles, had a 4-1 lead in the first game and 1-0 in the second before sixth inning Cincinnati upriving wiped them out. A two-run triple by New York, which is now 39 games behind Los Angeles, had a 4-1 lead in the first game and 1-0 in the second before sixth inning Cincinnati upriving wiped them out. A two-run triple by Hank Foiles featured the six-run rally in the first game and Vada Pinson's three-run homer did the job in the second game.

The Mets scrambled back to tie the second, but Kouph's third homer of the season sent them reeling to their third longest losing string of the season. The Reds now have won five in a row.

Joe Nuxhall, just recalled from San Diego, received credit for the first game victory and Jim Brosnan (4-1) got the second.

Banks Homers

The Dodgers jumped on Cub starter Don Cardwell for five runs in the first inning and took it from there in the rain-shortened romp. Los Angeles' 15 hits included homers by Frank Howard and Larry Burright and a couple of triples by Willie Davis. Maury Wills stole his 49th base. Ernie Banks hit his 24th homer for the Cubs.

San Francisco's victory over the Pirates gave the Giants a 2 1/2 game edge over the third-place Pirates. The Giants got their first four runs on solo homers by Felipe Alou, Jim Davenport, Jose Pagan and Willie Mays, his 28th.

Alou also doubled in what proved to be the winning run in the fifth. Dick Stuart had a homer and three runs batted in for the Pirates.

Bob Gibson (13-6) of St. Louis stopped Houston on seven hits, but had to have help from Lindy McDaniel in the ninth.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Duane mounds of Waupaca by a single target. Buchholz of Milwaukee broke 198 targets Sunday in winning the singles crown in the Wisconsin Trap Shooting Tournament and beating defending Don Edmonds.

Edmonds was tied for second by Milwaukee's Julie Decker. Bill Brauer Jr. of Fond du Lac took overall honors, breaking 563 of 600 targets in the three-day shoot. He is on leave from Army duty at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Adam Marek, 63, a retired mailman from Oconto, won the handicap event on Saturday by breaking 96 of 100 targets. It was his first title in 44 years of shooting.

Ruby Jenner of Waupaca was high woman in the handicap event with 90. Vic Reinders of Waupaca won the doubles title with 93 of 100 targets.

Shirley Englehorn Wins First Major Pro Golf Tourney

SUTTON, Mass. (AP)—Shirley Englehorn, 21-year-old Spokane, Wash., golfer who won her first major professional tournament Sunday — the $10,000 Women's Eastern Open — credits a continuous four-month golfing lesson in 1959 as the turning point in her career.

It was then at Palm Springs, Calif. that Miss Englehorn came under the tutelage of Shirley Spork, a teaching professional from San Francisco.

Ironically for most of Sunday's final 18 holes in the 54-hole event, Miss Englehorn and Miss Spork were locked in a head-to-head duel for the $1,450 top prize.

Miss Spork took the lead at the 10th hole but then faltered while Miss Englehorn played steadily and won by three strokes with 1-over-par 75 and a 226 total. Mary Mills of Gulfport, Miss., took second money of $1,150 with a 74 windup for 229.

Wedding Promises Repeated

IOLA — Miss Patricia Ann Jensen, daughter of Mrs. Ida A. Jensen, route 1, Ogdensburg, and Dean Carl Zander, route 2, Manawa, were married at 3 p.m. Saturday at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Manawa. The Rev. Carl Luedtke officiated at the nuptial rite. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zander, Manawa.

Escorted to the altar by her uncle, Alvin Rohde, the bride chose Mrs. Lloyd Ferg, Marawa, the bridegroom's sister, as matron of honor. Miss Karen Lemke, Appleton, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Nancy Schirmer, Iola, were bridesmaids.

Lloyd Ferg served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Ralph Jensen, Ogdensburg, the bride's brother, and Edwin Flater, Marawa. Guests were seated by William Rohde and Jack Craig.

A wedding reception was held in the church parlor. When the newlyweds return from a honeymoon trip, they will reside at route 2, Manawa.

The bride was graduated from Iola High School and is employed at the Appleton Post-Crescent. Her husband was graduated from Little West High School, Marawa, and is employed at the Appleton Post-Crescent. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jensen, Ogdensburg.

To Ride in Show

Miss Susan Leisegang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Leisegang, 122 E. Bird St., will ride in the Appleton Post-Crescent Show on July 22. Miss Leisegang is a graduate of Appleton High School and is employed at the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Verhasselt

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Verhasselt are honeymooning at Niagara Falls and touring Canada this week. The bride is the former Miss Joanne Schroeder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schroeder, route 1, Appleton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. Isidor Verhasselt, route 2, Kaukauna. The couple was wed at a 10 a.m. double ring ceremony Saturday at Holy Cross Catholic Church, Kaukauna. Pechman Photos.

Pair Weds In Catholic Nuptial Rite

CHILTON — St. Mary Catholic Church was the setting at 10:30 a.m. Saturday for the marriage of Miss Donna Marie Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Weber, Charlesburg, and Gerald Steenport, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Steenport, 457 Breed St.

The Rev. Raymond Conrad officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Dyan Steenport, attended as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sharon Jack, Milwaukee, Miss Irene Hammer and Mrs. Jeanold Puetz, both of Charlesburg. The bride's cousin, Miss Judith Weber, Charlesburg, and Miss Jean Marie Kraus, Sheboygan, niece of the bridegroom, acted as flower girls.

Best man was Thomas Schwartz, Hayton. James Steenport, brother of the bridegroom, Roger Weber, Charlesburg, a brother of the bride, and Paul Meyer, Milwaukee, served as groomsmen. Ushering duties were shared by Steven Steenport, the bridegroom's brother, and Gene Weber, Charlesburg, a cousin of the bride.

A dinner was served at the Altona Supper Club, New Holstein. A reception and dance were held at Dorn's Hall, Charlesburg. A wedding trip to the western states is planned.

The bride, a graduate of New Holstein High School and the Accredited School of Beauty Culture, Milwaukee, will be employed as a cosmetologist at Fond du Lac. Her husband was graduated from Chilton High School and attended the Milwaukee School of Engineering, and Wisconsin State College, Stevens Point. He is employed as an electrical technician at Godding and Lewis, Fond du Lac.

Designers Battle Over Hemlines

BY PAUL GHALI Chicago Daily News Service

PARIS — Fashions, with pendulum regularity, are again stepping up in the news. This time, so the rumor goes, a double controversy is brewing involving the knees and the bust of the fall and winter 1962 silhouette.

In the week before the fashion curtain opens here, most of the high priests of haute couture have come out with the fall decision to lengthen from two to four inches.

A wicked Englishman did this with a king of clubs in the 1955 bridge world championships. Our wicked man, Adam Meredith, refused the first spade trick but won the second with dummy's ace of spades. He cashed the ace of hearts and then led the jack of clubs from dummy. East naturally played low, and Meredith played the king of clubs from his hand. Meredith said nothing with his own voice, but his cards told a story. The king of clubs said, in effect: "I am a desperate attempt to reach the South hand for a heart finesse." Believes Story

West believed this story. Thinking that his side could win three tricks and two clubs, West grabbed the ace of clubs and led another spade. Seeing what was happening, East won with the nine of spades and returned the king of diamonds. This didn't help. Meredith won in dummy with the ace of diamonds, took a finesse with the nine of clubs, rattled off the rest of the clubs and then took three more heart tricks with the help of a successful finesse in that suit too.

Meredith wound up with ten tricks, and it was all very discouraging to the Anti-Fib League. Still, you might keep that king of clubs play in mind for the next time you're in a desperate contract. (That is, if you don't mind being labelled a deceptive player.) If South had played the clubs normally, West would have refused the first club trick. South would get one club instead of four

One explanation given for the popularity of brown tresses is that they are the natural hair color of the greatest number of women in America. But ask the brunettes, and nine out of 10 will speak of their dissatisfaction with the shade. It's drab and uninteresting, they say. And doubtless that is why, since the improvement of dyes and tints, we see more blonde heads than we used to. Of course many a woman is devoted to her brown locks. She has good cause, too, when her hair is marked with a lively shade and a high gloss. The rub comes when brown hair is dull, dry and mousey, and a possessor has personal

President Urges Scouts To Develop Own Abilities

A challenge from President Baden Powell, World Chief Guide Kennedy keynoteed the first all- and widow of the founder of the encampment campfire of the 1962 Scouting movement. Girl Scout Senior Roundup held in an outdoor arena at Button Bay State Park, Vermont Friday at 8:30 p.m. Mr. Kennedy's message challenged the 10,000 campers to develop their individual abilities in preparation for playing useful roles in their communities and in the world. The Girl Scout 50th anniversary Roundup being held on the shores of Lake Champlain near Burlington, Vermont, from July 18 - 31, has brought together 8,500 girls, 500 girl campers arrived in 11 aged 14 through 17 years, and 1,700 adults from all 50 states and from a total of 21 other countries. At the campfire ceremony, Girl Guide representatives from other countries greeted and were greeted by U.S. Senior Girl Scouts in their respective languages. United States Scouts bore the national flags of the international visitors. Almost 500 girls participated in the ceremony. A total of 264 American and international flags encircled the entire arena during the ceremonies. Gratitude Expressed After the lighting of an Olympic-type torch, Mrs. Charles U. Culmer of Libertyville, Illinois, president of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., welcomed and thanked the governor of Vermont, the Honorable F. Ray Keyser, Jr., as well as Lieutenant General Garrison H. Davidson of the United States First Army. Both the State of Vermont and the First Army have helped to prepare the Roundup camp site and are providing services. The stage backdrop featured a 24 x 60 foot map of the United States marked with the twelve Girl Scout regions. Four girls from each of the regions described their areas as they placed on the map an emblem of their region, such as a covered wagon representing the south western states, a longboat from the Great Lakes region and a cotton blossom from the deep South. In addition to President Kennedy's message, taperecorded greetings were heard from Lady

Kennedy to Seek Public Support

President Wants More Pressure In Favor of Domestic Policies

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is about to do what he could have done before but didn't, although, if he had, he might have less need for doing it now. He's going to the people for support.

In these past 18 months, Congress stuck with him on defense and the usual problems outside the country, like foreign aid and trade.

But it acted like kids loose in a department store at night with bricks and scissors when it came to some of his major domestic programs, like medical care for the elderly and aid to education.

Not Direct Appeal

Kennedy could have appealed directly to public opinion to pressure Congress on these programs. He did little direct appealing. And now it's too late for this year.

Quietly, without much evidence of distress, he let Congress renege on aid to education. He made only one broadcast for medical care and that was off the cuff although he had time for a thorough, prepared talk.

While Presidents Roosevelt and Truman went over the heads of Congress to the people, Kennedy used the tactics Jefferson, Jackson and McKinley had to use in the days before radio and television.

Pressure On Congress

He and his aides put pressure on Congress. Because whatever was done was done behind the scenes, just how much fighting he did will always be open to question.

He certainly did not fight openly with Congress.

He seems to have operated under the spell of President Eisenhower's let's get along with everybody policy.

Different League

Kennedy has a Democratic-run Congress where the Republicans and a bundle of his own Democrats are far from cooperative, at least on his domestic program. And the leaders, Democrats and Republicans alike, are not in the same league with Rayburn and Johnson.

In the congressional election campaigns after Congress winds up, Kennedy is expected to pitch for his programs like medical care. And although his Democrats unanimously outnumber Republicans, he will ask for even more Democrats in order to get his programs through next year.

If he had pitched for his individual programs publicly during the past 18 months he would have been in the enviable political position of being able to focus at-

Passengers Resume Trip To Your Good Health To Netherlands After Engine Trouble Delay

NEW YORK (AP) — Sixteen passengers of the Royal Dutch Airlines on their way to Amsterdam resume their journey today. It was interrupted Sunday night when a fire in an engine forced their plane to return to Idlewild Airport.

The pilot turned back after reporting that the fire posed no imminent danger. It was quickly extinguished while the propeller-driven craft was still aloft.

County Nurse Dies 12 Hours After Fire

MADISON (AP) — Miss Charlotte Farrell, 58, a nurse employed by the Dane County Public Welfare Department, died in a Madison hospital Sunday, 12 hours after a fire in her apartment.

Capt. George Stanek of the fire department said the blaze started in a sofa, apparently by a lighted cigarette. Miss Farrell suffered second and third degree burns.

Relieving Pressure Helps Varicose Veins

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
"Dear Dr. Molner, I have varicose veins and have worn elastic stockings for years. Is there anything else I can do?" I am 77, and have a little garden and flowers that I love to spade. I had phlebitis in my right leg — Mrs. E. C.

Molner

Without going into the whole story of varicose veins which I have discussed before let's limit this to Mrs. E. C.'s question. (For those desiring it, the booklet, "How to Deal With Varicose Veins," is available in return for a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents in coin. Address requests to Dr. Molner, in care of this newspaper.)

The elastic stockings unquestionably help, she may find even more support in the use of elastic bandages wrapped from ankle to knee or above.

Pressure Swells Veins

The veins have become "varicose" by swelling from the pressure within them, so these elastic supports are logical for counteracting this condition.

All sorts of salves and home remedies have been tried by thousands of patients without relief. There is no reason to expect any, so don't waste time on things that can't help.

In a great many cases the patient rightly comes around to having the over-swollen veins obliterated by injections, which is a satisfactory method for some, or having the veins ligated (or tied) which is an equivalent method, or having them removed surgically, called "stripping." The vein is removed, so only a small incision is required.)

Movement Helps

Whether, at 77, she should have one of these latter procedures could be decided only by the doctor caring for her.

However, she can still help herself by understanding the cause of varicose veins — pressure inside veins which are not strongly supported by the flesh.

She should not stand for long periods; when on her feet, walking and moving about promotes circulation and is helpful.

Sitting in one position for long periods is harmful — it cramps the veins, retarding circulation. Hence, move from time to time.

Wife Blames Missing Ring on Pawnbroker, But Loving Husband Deserves Credit

DEAR CY:

If you really want to do something good for people through your column, you should blow the lid off pawnbrokers.

When my husband was out of work for six weeks, he pawned his watch and my wedding ring. He was loaned just the smallest part of what they were worth, and charged a full 32 per cent interest. As yet he has not redeemed our valuables. Don't you think it is time Americans learn what these pawnbrokers do to people?

EMILIE

DEAR EMILIE:

Centuries ago, the pawnbroker hung his three-gold-ball sign over a door in Florence, Italy, and if the major aluminum foil profits our modern society. For people like your husband who have trouble obtaining immediate money from any source, the pawnbroker serves a purpose. I won't deny the interest was high, and the loan low (he could have paid over 40 per cent in some states). But, remember, your ever-loving isn't America's greatest credit risk. Your big concern should be when you will get your wedding ring back. The pawnbroker bets you won't.

DEAR CY:

I am a preacher and for three solid years have been broadcasting three to five times a week, on radio. Lately, contributions for continuing the program have fallen off, and I feel I must not give up this means of preaching to thousands of people who cannot regularly go to church. At one time, to supplement donations, I sold Bibles on my regular program. My credit with the stations is very good and there is no problem there.

COUNTRY PREACHER

Your "very good" credit is no surprise. Most radio stations will agree the credit of broadcasting churchmen has been historically excellent. But, your messages may have declined in listener interest. See Billy Graham, and analyze how this master of evangelism employs modern interest factors. I suggest you print small "inspirational tablets" of about two dozen pages, measuring 3 inches across by 1 inch in depth. On each page, print a quotation from the Bible. The backs should be adhesive so they can be stuck to walls and automobile dashboards. By tearing off pages and consuming message, your listen-

CY

DEAR CY:

I have an idea that would promote the sale of aluminum foil by a huge percentage. I am an artist with a flair for designing and have an advertising mind. I have designed some things that can be made from aluminum foil that would rock the industry. People would be using foil at an unbelievable rate. Put on the old thinking helmet, Cy, and advise me on what to do. If somebody will buy my ideas, I can crank more out like popping corn.

JEAN MC

DEAR JEAN:

Since your ideas sound highly promotional, I suggest you contact the advertising agencies for fact the major aluminum foil profits our modern society. For people like your husband who have trouble obtaining immediate money from any source, the pawnbroker serves a purpose. I won't deny the interest was high, and the loan low (he could have paid over 40 per cent in some states). But, remember, your ever-loving isn't America's greatest credit risk. Your big concern should be when you will get your wedding ring back. The pawnbroker bets you won't.

New Hope Seen for Kuehn Lists Education Aid Bill Reynolds as Incompetent

President Trying to Get More Major Legislation Approved

Democratic Nominee Rails Republican Sales Tax Measure

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has revived its hopes of prying out of a Senate-House conference committee a compromise bill to provide federal aid for higher education.

If this can be accomplished—and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., predicted today it can—President Kennedy may improve the sagging batting average of his legislative program.

kind of school aid legislation to prove the administration can win some advances in controversial domestic fields.

They are fighting in the Senate to resurrect some segments of his tight controls farm program which the House already has tried to consign to the grave. They have hopes of getting a House-passed postal rate increase through the Senate also.

The issue of whether grants to church-operated colleges are constitutional lies at the heart of the present stalemate.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Philip Kuehn, endorsed Republican candidate for governor, said Sunday that Atty. Gen. John Reynolds, Democratic candidate for governor, "has not only shown himself incompetent in legal matters but has used his office as attorney general for political purposes."

In the weeks before a possible Labor Day adjournment, the administration apparently will be heavily engaged in a salvage operation aimed at nullifying the Republican charge that a Democratic president has failed to get any important accomplishment out of a Democratic Congress.

Need Some Advances

In rebuttal, Kennedy obviously is going to be able to point to a new international trade bill on which the Senate Finance Committee begins public hearings today. This measure, revised in the House before passage there, has attracted bipartisan support.

But the President needs more than this before he can do much pointing with pride to the record of the Democratic Congress which he will be compelled to defend in the November elections.

If he asks—and gets—an immediate tax cut, it might be singled out as a major achievement. But any request for such a tax reduction carries with it a White House acknowledgment that the economy is in the kind of difficulty that might be reflected in sweeping Republican gains in November.

Kuehn made his charges in remarks prepared for a Racine County Republican picnic.

Reynolds, in an address at a county Democratic rally in La Crosse, said "one of the lamest excuses offered by the Republicans to justify their campaign for a general sales tax is that out-of-state tourists would be paying part of the freight."

Reynolds said non-residents would pay only $8 million "of the $400 million which the general sales tax would cost taxpayers in the next biennium."

70,000 See Parade Capping Oshkosh Legion Convention

Beauties, Bands and Crowd Stand By in Rain and Sun to See Event

OSHKOSH — Not since the winner in drum and bugle corps city's centennial in June of 1953 competition, Starlite Corps of has Oshkosh been treated to a Post 219, Town of Milwaukee, parade as lengthy and as colorful as the one held here Sunday afternoon by Wisconsin Legionnaires.

The three-hour-long parade, which capped a three-day state American Legion convention, was viewed by an estimated 70,000 people. Sidewalks, intersections and gutters were jammed along the nearly three-mile parade route, beginning on the city's southside at 16th Ave. and Oregon St. and ending on the northside at Irving Ave. and Main St.

A sudden downpour shortly before 4 p.m., when the parade was two hours old, sent spectators scurrying for cover under storefront awnings, in store entrance ways, and under shelters hastily devised from raincoats. The parade, however, continued uninterrupted. About 20 minutes later, the sun reappeared and spectators once again jammed the roadsides.

Beauty Apparent

Beauty was one of the parade's mainstays, especially in the persons of Miss Wisconsin Jo Ann Mary Engh, the 1962 state Honey Queen, Miss Muriel Smith, Miss Oshkosh Jane Ann Kozak, Miss Appleton, Barbara Casser, and the newly elected state Legion convention queen, Miss Judy Britton. All of these beauties, are from Oshkosh except Miss Wisconsin and Miss Appleton.

Among the 100 or more units entered in the parade were the prize-winning bands and drum and bugle corps which competed in Saturday night's Legion Tournament of Music held here at the Oshkosh High School athletic field on Jackson St.

Inquest Set Into Kiel Man's Death

Hit-and-Run Driver Denies Charge of Negligent Homicide

CHILTON — An inquest into the death of Harry Rabe, 58, route 2, Kiel, allegedly dealt fatal injuries by a hit-and-run driver, has been scheduled for 8 p.m. July 26 at the court house here.

Rabe, a rural Kiel tavern proprietor, was dead on arrival at Calumet Memorial Hospital, Chilton, early June 24. His car was hit broadside as it entered State 57 from a New Holstein supper club parking lot by a car driven by David Wettstein, 18, New Holstein.

Witnesses told police Rabe was thrown from his car and struck by another car, which then fled. The driver of the hit and run vehicle, Miss Betty Johnson, 41, Oak Creek, surrendered to Calumet County authorities two days later.

She has been charged with negligent homicide, leaving the scene of an accident and driving too fast for conditions. Miss Johnson denied all three charges when arraigned before County Judge D. H. Sebor. She is free on bond.

Daily Parties at Playgrounds

Skaters, Beatniks, Gypsies Featured In Week's Events

A party almost every day this week is scheduled for the Appleton Recreation Department playgrounds.

An ice cream social will last from 6 to 8 p.m. tonight at Pierce Park and Columbus School.

Tomorrow at 7 p.m. playgrounders will dance, play cards and games at a dress up party, Linwood Park and Huntley School will have the ice cream socials Tuesday night.

Gypsy Party

Throughout Wednesday children will wear colorful clothes in keeping with the gypsy party theme, drink lemonade out of a kettle and have their fortunes told. The ice cream social that night will be at McKinley School and Jones Park.

Especially designed for the older children, the Beatnik Party Thursday starts at 3 p.m. The department singers will rehearse from 1:30 to 2:30 at the Dance Studio. Square dancing will again be from 7 to 9 p.m. at Jefferson School.

Roller Skating

Competition in various sports, and a rehearsal of the department's play at the Dance Studio are scheduled for Friday. A staff meeting at 3:30 p.m. at City Hall will end the week.

Today, children skated to music and through games and races in a roller skating party.

Special Events Set Wednesday

KIMBERLY — Two special events are scheduled Wednesday evening by the recreation department, on a splash party at the pool for persons over seven and the other a peanut hunt in various parks for smaller children.

Pool events will include swimming and diving competition, wash tub races, penny diving and pajama races. Both events will get underway at 6:30 p.m. Hereafter supervised activity at parks will conclude at 8:30 p.m.

Youngsters from Combined Locks will hold a picnic at Main Park Tuesday and Kimberly children will have a similar event at Sunset Point Thursday. Parental consent slips will be distributed by play leaders. Children are to assemble at their respective parks at 9:30 a.m. and will march as a group to the picnic site. Children are to bring wieners to roast and a drink.

The movie, "Have Rocket, Will Travel," will be shown at Combined Locks School at 9:30 a.m. Thursday and at the Kimberly auditorium at the same time Friday.

Street Ownership Argument Chamber Board Urges City to Lead Fight

The board of directors of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce has placed itself in the corner of Atty. Karl P. Baldwin and Ald. George Buckley, who are fighting to make the city take legal action against Chicago & North Western Railway Co. on two blocks of W. North St.

Directors passed a resolution Friday that asks the city to take legal action against the railway to protect the public's right to use the two blocks and the right of businesses on the street to operate.

Chamber president John P. Reeve said this morning he will deliver the resolution to Mayor Clarence Mitchell sometime today.

Ald. Buckley and Baldwin claim the city owns the street. The railroad says it owns the street. The railroad tried to assure its ownership Wednesday by barricading it. But Baldwin and Buckley got an injunction and the barricades went down 10 hours after they were put up. The city hasn't formed an official plan of action but has referred the matter to several committees.

Prove Ownership

Baldwin talked to the chamber board Friday, arguing that the city should take the initiative in proving its ownership of the street. He claimed the mayor didn't know what was going on and he asked the chamber's help.

The chamber board agreed the city should take the initiative. The resolution urges such legal action, including taking the initiative in a suit brought by the abutting property owners, against and/or negotiations with the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. to protect the public and the businesses.

We're not taking sides in the bickering, Reeve explained to the board. The businessmen on that part of the street have the right to continue business. It seems obvious that the city owns the property. The city ought to be the one to take the initiative.

Stockbridge Gets Option on Site Of Disposal Plant

Priority of Request for Federal Aid Raised by Action, Board Feels

STOCKBRIDGE — The village board at a special meeting Friday secured an option on property for a sewage disposal plant site and will now apply for a federal grant in aid of $20,000 to $22,000.

Before Friday's session, the lack of a site held up progress on the village's municipal water and sewage development planning. Several farmers had objected to Lee, Green Bay engineer, for fear the locations suggested by Robert of contamination of streams flowing through their property to Lake Winnebago. They also feared an odor problem and foresaw milk marketing problems.

Have Option

The property now available to the village as a sewage disposal plant site is the Hubert Lefebvre farm, just west of village's construction limits along County Trunk E. The village has an option to buy the land. The north-west branch of Mud Creek flows through the property and would be used to carry off treated wastes.

To ease the rural residents' skepticism of treated sewage's effects on streams, several village officers, including president George Hostettler, took them on a tour of several plants in nearby communities.

With an option, the village in its application for federal cost sharing can be reasonably certain of a high priority rating, Lee said. Lee told the group that it was useless to apply without a lease or an option for the treatment plant site accompanying the application.

Eligible for federal cost sharing in the proposed project are the sewage plant and some companion equipment. The overall total cost of the plant has been estimated at $65,000, and the companion unit, a lift pump, at $8,000. This would make the grant about $20,000 to $22,000, representing an estimated 30 per cent of the cost.

The entire installation, both water and sewer, has been estimated at $270,000.

Public Hearing Set for Aug. 1 On Question of Reducing Width Of Street Adjacent to Site

Construction of Appleton's first at Division and Washington parking ramp won't begin until at least Aug. 2.

The Hopfensperger business is at 418-420 W. College Ave., and alley south of the proposed ramp abuts on the alley.

Complaints about narrowing an alley would be made narrower, and did not find out until after they read it in the Post-Crescent.

Meeting in Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell's office were consulting engineers and the various contractors. City Atty. Fred Froehlich said that the objections of C. A. and Edward J. Hopfensperger will have to be dealt with before work can begin.

Contracts were to have been signed this morning. Representatives of the Meyer Corp., Neenah, the general contractor, today requested permission to begin excavating the alley Wednesday, but permission was withheld by City Clerk Elden Broehm, acting on Froehlich's recommendation.

Reconsider Plans

The letter from the Hopfenspergers asks the council to reconsider plans for narrowing the alley from 43 to 20 feet on the south side of the structure to be built.

The Hopfensperger business is at 418-420 W. College Ave., and alley south of the proposed ramp abuts on the alley.

They complained in their letter that they were not informed the alley would be made narrower, and did not find out until after they read it in the Post-Crescent.

Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski said he did not think the letter would change the plans.

The contracts have been awarded and the council has approved financing. It's very unlikely they'll change their minds now," he added.

Aug. 8 is the last day which the contracts can be signed because of the original agreement signed between the city and the participating contractors.

Ed Komb, representing Meyer, said it was unfortunate they had to delay the project now because it was so late in the year.

"We would be better off if it was May instead of July," he said.

Narrow Alley

If vacating of the 23-foot portion of the alley is accomplished at the Aug. 1 council meeting, the Hopfenspergers and all other businesses in that block will have a 20-foot alley instead of a 43-foot alley.

Part of the 43-foot strip was never formally dedicated as an alley, but it has been used by some of the store owners for private parking, and loading and unloading.

Broehm said that if everything goes as planned at the hearing, the lot probably will be barricaded the following day and work can begin immediately.

Whether the objection by the Hopfenspergers could be considered valid depends upon whether they are considered adjacent property owners.

Froehlich said this morning that since the property abuts on the alley rather than on the parking lot, they cannot be considered adjacent property owners.

Set Hearings to Form New Common Districts

Hortonville and Freedom to Present Petitions for School Plan Changes

Two public hearings on petitions to form common school districts from the Hortonville and Freedom union high school districts are scheduled for July 25 and 31.

If the petitions are approved, the change will be effective in September.

The Hortonville meeting will be at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Hortonville High School. Fifteen elementary districts, with an enrollment of about 600 pupils, are involved. Hortonville High School has an enrollment of about 360.

The Freedom hearing will be at 8 p.m. July 31 at Freedom High School. Fourteen elementary districts, including eight complete districts and parts of six others, would become part of the school district in Outagamie County is the Seymour District.

4,000 Throng to See State Legion's Music Tournament

Convention Queen From Oshkosh Presented With Court of Honor

OSHKOSH — Approximately 4,000 persons thronged onto the Oshkosh High School Athletic Field Saturday night to view one of the most colorful and stirring music spectacles to be presented here in over a decade. The Wisconsin American Legion's annual Music Tournament of Masses.

Of the 56 groups entered in the competitive event, four were the top bands, and the remainder drum and bugle corps. In the latter group, three were entered in class A competition, 140 in the junior sponsored and four in the open.

A fitting climax to the evening was the presentation of the 1962 Wisconsin American Legion Convention Queen, Miss Judy Burton of Oshkosh. She was crowned by the Legion Auxiliary's National President.

Columnist Says GOP Favored in State Elections

Wyngaard Thinks Races Will be Won By Narrow Margins

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Most observers believe the Republican party is the favorite to gain control of the state government administration in the November elections, a statehouse correspondent told the Green Bay Kiwanis Club today.

John Wyngaard, long-time Madison representative of the Appleton Post-Crescent, said the view of independent observers is reinforced by the attitudes and actions of the partisans in both of the political party organizations.

The reporter cautioned, however, that the two-party alignment in the state has become so firmly established during the last decade that future margins of victory in elections are likely to be fairly narrow. Landslides will be rare occurrences, he speculated.

Wyngaard said he thought there was only a slight chance of reappointment of Wisconsin legislative or congressional districts that will be effective for the fall elections, but forecast redistricting by the 1963 legislature.

Parties Reshaping Both political parties are now firmly committed to a reshaping of the state's political map for legislative and Washington representation, he said, but the institutional interests of the rival parties are such as to make the task virtually unmanageable during a period of political division in state government control.

The reporter described the dominant issue in state politics and in the election campaign as financing the enormous expansion of public spending for education, welfare and other basic public services, and the development of a revenue system adequate for the task.

He said virtually all politicians are privately convinced that the state will soon have a general sales tax, with modifications, but that some of them continue to fear that voters resent the prospect. He said "the ice was broken" when the Republicans and Democrats after long battle last year contrived a selective sales tax as a compromise.

Runners-up in class A were the Kingsmen of Post 552, Kenosha, second, 87, and the Montees, of Post 10, Wausau, third, 78.

Entered in the junior sponsored division was a drum and bugle corps from Post 258 of Little Chute, the Dutch Girls. Among the most popular groups competing, the Dutch Girls won fifth in their category with a 75.48 rating.

The top corps in this division, however, were the Mercury Thunderbolts, of Post 288, Cedarburg. They were rated 91.93. Others entered in the junior sponsored class were ranked as follows: the Shoreliners, of Post 293, Silver Lake, second, 91.46; the Royal Guard Corps, of Post 91, Wisconsin Rapids, third, 86.59; and the Racine Scout Corps, of Post 79, fourth, 79.94.

Junior Open Units

Four corps were entered in junior open competition. Coping first place with an 88.12 rating was the Starlite Corps, of Post 219, Town of Milwaukee. The other units finished in this order: Eau Claire Corps, of Johnson-Nicoles Post, second, 86.83; Racine YMCA Kiltie Kadets, of Post 76, third, 83.54; and the Militaires of Post 388, Milwaukee, fourth, 80.04.

Skelly Takes Over as New Legion Chief

The newly elected commander of the Wisconsin American Legion, Donald P. Skelly, Milton, was formally installed into office following Sunday morning's convention session. Other state officers also were installed at this time.

Installing officer was Harold A. Kuchel, past department commander. As is traditional, the blue and white cap of office was given to Skelly by the immediate past commander, Gilman H. Stordock.

Highlight of the ceremony was the appearance of the "Boys of 76," a drum and bugle corps from Racine, who played two selections after marching into the convention hall in the Oshkosh Vocational School.

This ceremony ended, except for the afternoon annual convention parade, the business and festivities of the 44th Annual State American Legion Convention. An estimated 7,500 persons came to Oshkosh for the three-day event, either as delegates or families and friends of the conventioners.

The top-light drum and bugle corps entered in the class A division Saturday night were the Boys of 76, of Racine Legion Post 76. Reputed to be the first formally organized drum and bugle corps in the history of the Legion, the Boys of 76 have won a first place yearly in Legion competition since 1922. In addition, they have also garnered

Attic Theater

'Majority of One' Setting for Fine Exhibit of Acting Skill

By Jay Joslyn

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

"Majority of One," the current offering by the Attic Theater, is a perfect answer to those critics of the theater who — quite rightly — object to "realism" that often turns squeamish or principle people away from attendance at the theater.

Leonard Spigelglass holds his mirror up to nature and his warmth, happiness and an honesty greater than his contemporary counterparts do with their clinical investigation of the seamy and unseemly side of life.

Acting Skill Displayed Although the play is a thing happily to behold, in the hands of Mrs. Ted Cloak and her cast at the Attic, it is merely a setting for one of the most rewarding exhibits of acting skill that has graced a Fox Cities stage for some time.

It would be quite impossible to convince anyone who has seen Stein and Dr. Swimmer carried through the high quality of their own.

performances in the hands of newcomer Boh George and veteran Meryl Bender and Lila Anderson. Mrs. Anderson especially reflected the warmth of family love that exudes from Mrs. Millstein's role. Harry Millstein added a comic touch in the near farcical presentation of a military authority.

Another role that must receive special attention is that of Eddie, the modern Japanese. Daniel Liebhauser with his dark good looks and irrepressible energy brings this concept of East-West meeting with its leather jacket and yen for black market come understandably alive.

"Majority of One" will play tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, twice on Saturday and once more on Sunday. If there is genuine interest in the theater and a regard for real quality, tickets should be scarce. But they are worth any effort to

Fallout Medication Easily Obtainable

Government Has No Plans for Getting Public to Use Chemical

By Philip Meyer

Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — The corner drugstore has a simple chemical that, taken in small doses, could protect children from some of the hazards of radioactive fallout.

Your family doctor knows about it. So does the government. But the government has no present plan for getting people to use it.

Health officials explain that any program of mass medication at this time would probably be more troublesome than the fallout. But if such a program should become necessary, there is no single federal agency that has clear responsibility for deciding when and how to put it into effect.

Dr. Russell H. Morgan, chairman of the National Advisory Committee on Radiation, an arm of the Public Health Service, thinks it is time someone was given the responsibility for countermeasures against fallout.

The amount of radioactive iodine from the U.S. and Russian tests is increasing and if the Soviets should start testing again, as they promise, it would "immediately raise very serious problems of counter-measures," he says.

The iodine-131 now falling on the United States is causing official concern because it can interfere with the function of the thyroid gland or cause cancer in that organ. Fortunately, it is one of the easiest radioactive contaminants to deal with.

A tiny dosage of stable iodine, easily obtainable in potassium iodine, can reduce the thyroid gland's accumulation of iodine 131 by 80 per cent in a few days. Larger doses reduces it more and faster.

Too Tricky Health authorities have nothing against this method when it is supervised by a doctor. The Morgan committee thinks the problem of precise dosage is too tricky for mass use except where extremely heavy exposure to radioactivity outweighs that risk.

A simpler counter-measure is to avoid food likely to carry iodine-131. It disintegrates rapidly — half of any given amount disappears in eight days — and most foods spend enough time traveling from the farm to the dinner table for the contamination to disappear.

Fresh dairy products are an exception, and the use of canned or powdered milk by small children and pregnant women should be "one of the first counter-measures to consider," the committee says.

As Dr. Morgan has pointed out, they may have to be considered fairly soon.

$10,000 Loss As Lightning Strikes Barn

WITTENBERG — Lightning hit a dairy barn on the Mrs. Gladys Panko farm, route 1, Wittenberg, about 6 p.m. Sunday. The farm is located about four miles northwest of Wittenberg.

The 40 by 80 foot barn was half filled with hay and straw and contained two young heifers. It was a complete loss.

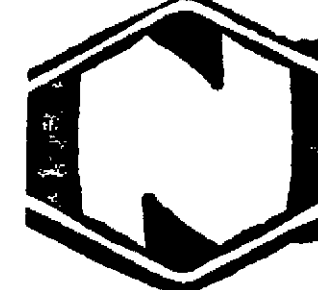

Wittenberg fire department answered the call and managed to save the rest of the farm buildings. They remained at the scene for about two hours. Estimated loss is about $10,000. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Kaukauna Girl Gets Bitten by Neighbor's Dog

KAUKAUNA — Ann Lambie, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lambie, 817 Lawe St., Kaukauna, received cuts requiring eight stitches when bitten by a dog about 3:15 p.m. Saturday.

According to police, the girl was going through a neighbor's yard when a dog, which was tied, knocked her down and bit her under the eye and on the bridge of the nose. She was treated at the Kaukauna Community Hospital.

The owner of the dog reported older youngsters had a habit of teasing the animal.

Byrnes Sees Fall Date for Adjournment

Congressman Says Leadership Failure Apparent in Capital

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Legislative difficulties, suggesting "a failure of leadership" within both Congress and the White House, has pushed back adjournment of the country's top lawmaking body to sometime in the fall, according to Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Green Bay.

Topping the week's activities on Capitol Hill, as examples of the "legislative difficulties," were the defeat of the King-Anderson Medicare bill on the Senate side and the necessity of the House to write and vote on a farm bill for a second time.

The day after the Medicare bill was killed in the Senate, Byrnes, who is chairman of the House Policy committee, spoke on the floor about the "obstructionists" who defeated Medicare.

Blame For Defeat
Commenting that much of the blame for defeat of the bill had been laid at the feet of alleged Republican "obstructionists," Byrnes listed Democratic chairmen of Senate committees who also "obstructed" Medicare by voting to kill it.

"The list of Democrats against the President's Medicare bill also includes five out of the nine members of the Democratic policy committee of the Senate," Byrnes said. "It includes in addition the secretary of the Senate Democratic conference who, I am informed, is a very close friend of the President and was an usher at his wedding."

"So when we talk about purges and obstructionism we had better look to see about whom we are talking," Byrnes said.

Occupants of the Sports Car shown above were hospitalized at Theda Clark Memorial Hospital and the driver of another car was injured in an accident on County Trunk A in the Town of Neenah at 7:04 p.m. Sunday. Injured were John W. Larson and Donna J. Haldemann, both of route 1, Neenah, occupants of the sports car, and LeRoy Brinkmann, Appleton, driver of the other car. (TCNR Staff Photo)

Kimberly-Clark Holds Seminars at Professional Management Level

NEENAH — Two Kimberly-Clark Corp. seminars in professional management, ending Aug. 31, will bring together 30 employees for study designed to assist each participant to become more effective on his present job and to encourage development of capabilities for greater managerial responsibilities.

The management research and development department within the personnel division of Kimberly-Clark is sponsoring the seminars.

The first of the two seminars opened Sunday evening at the Holiday Inn with A. D. Wilkinson, vice president, pulp and paper manufacturing, as keynote speaker. The second seminar opens Sunday, Aug. 5, with F. H. Werling, vice president, woodlands and creped wadding manufacturing, prefacing the study course with a talk. All study sessions will be at the corporation's Marketing Center.

Students
Participating as "students" this week are Abbott Byfield, assistant to the president; Norman Coan, plant manager, Karolton Envelope, Chicago; Kenneth A. Craig, manager, paper converted specialties, research and development; Ronald W. Evans, manager, engineering services, Kimberly-Clark; Herbert H. Gaustad, Dr. Tregoe. Both men are members of the Princeton, N.J., firm of Kepner, Tregoe and Associates.

Staff
The seminar staff this week includes Dr. Benjamin B. Tregoe, Princeton, N.J.; Boyd L. Payne, manager, management research and development; George A. Rushon, manager, and Richard R. Holland, assistant manager, manpower development, and Frank S. Wilton, training coordinator, Neenah Mill.

2 Patents Assigned
To Kimberly-Clark
NEENAH — Two patents relating to sanitary products were assigned to Kimberly-Clark Corp. June 12 by the United States Patent Office.

Inventors were K. J. Harwood, 416 Eighth St., Neenah, now retired, and Mrs. E. L. Rickard, 640 Chestnut St., Neenah, feminine products specialist. Harwood was research chemist at the time of the invention.

One patent relates to a method and equipment for perforating fabrics to increase porosity, with the resulting product particularly useful as a wrapper for feminine napkins. The other patent relates to an improved garment, constructed of highly stretchable yarns, for supporting feminine napkins.

Priest to be Invested as Monsignor

MENASHA — Investiture of the Rev. Joseph J. Ahearn as a domestic prelate will be at 3 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 15, in St. Patrick Catholic Church.

The appointment of Father Ahearn as a right reverend monsignor was announced June 21. Also appointed a domestic prelate of Pope John XXIII at the same time was the Rev. Joseph A. Becker, pastor of St. Mary Church, Menasha.

A reception in Mgr. Ahearn's honor will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 19, in the school cafeteria.

In their new ranks the monsignori may wear the purple cassock, sash, rochet and mantelletta at church functions.

Mgr. Ahearn, born Sept. 8, 1900 at Two Rivers, has been St. Patrick pastor since Sept. 14, 1959. He attended St. Lawrence Seminary, Mt. Calvary, and St. Francis Seminary, Milwaukee, and was ordained April 14, 1916 in St. Francis Xavier Cathedral, Green Bay.

Father Ahearn served as assistant at the cathedral from his ordination until 1918, when he was named pastor of St. Patrick Parish in Stiles. His other pastorates were All Saints, Denmark, in 1923; St. John, Oshkosh, 1932; and Sacred Heart, Manitowoc, 1938.

He is on the board of clergy examiners of the Green Bay Diocese.

Father Ahearn celebrated the 40th anniversary of his ordination in April 1956 in the local church.

Indian Minister To Assist Aug. 5 At Church Service

MENASHA — The Rev. Sadan and Gaikwad, Congregationalist minister from India, will assist at his first service in First Congregational Church at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 5.

The Rev. Mr. Gaikwad and his wife and two children, Chandraprabha and Vijaykumar, will live in Menasha for the next year. They will arrive Aug. 1 or 2. Their residence will be at 808 First St.

The local church group is planning a reception in the Gaikwads' honor immediately after the service.

Milwaukeean Jailed On Vagrancy Charge

OSHKOSH — Walter Warczak, 59, Milwaukee, was sentenced by County Judge James V. Sitter this morning to 30 days in the county jail for vagrancy and was fined $25 or an additional seven days in the jail for shoplifting.

He was charged with taking four pair of women's nylon stockings from a variety store in Oshkosh on Friday. He pleaded guilty to both charges.

Squaw Island Retreat Kennedys to Make 1st Visit to Summer Home

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — stand at the head of the island. The new summer White House for President Kennedy and his family is one of ten homes on a high bluff connected to the mainland by a 500 yard long causeway.

The area, called Squaw Island, is off Hyannis Port where the President, his brother, Robert, and their father, Joseph P. Kennedy, own summer homes.

The Kennedy's new vacation retreat is owned by old family friends, summer and Mrs. Morton Downey. The former Irish actor is now an executive of a soft drink company.

Along with more privacy, it will offer the first family a heated swimming pool, a tennis court, a ground level trampolene and a steam room.

The summer tourists who swarmed outside the Kennedy's Hyannis Port compound in hopes of catching a glimpse of the presidential family will find Squaw Island quite a challenge to their ingenuity.

Two stone pillars and a gate mark the entrance to the island. The view from the rear of the President's summer weekend headquarters is less salty—a small patch of scrubby woods and the marsh-land that runs between Squaw Island and the mainland.

The swimming pool, one of the chief inducements for Kennedy, and a long rolling lawn—not too well suited for the traditional family touch football games—are off to the left of the driveway entrance. The tennis court is across the road and down a flight of stairs.

Also across the narrow road is the summer home recently purchased by Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, the President's youngest brother.

Oshkosh Youth Bites Officer; Assessed $125

OSHKOSH — Ernest Harris, 19, 791B Pearl Ave., Oshkosh, was fined $50 and costs for being drunk and disorderly on Pearl Avenue and $75 and costs for resisting arrest when he pleaded guilty of both charges before County Judge James V. Sitter this morning.

He was arrested 8:45 p.m. Friday and hit one of the arresting officers in the right thigh.

Hit-Run Crash

MENASHA — The car of Fred W. Lemke Jr., 319 Union St., Neenah was struck about 3:30 a.m. Sunday by a hit-run car. Police have charged an Appleton man with failure to report an accident. His car's license number was supplied by a witness.

Mental Health Group Reorganization Set Tonight at VNA Office

NEENAH — Directors of the Winnebago County Association for Mental Health will reorganize the group at 7:30 tonight in the VNA Building, 406 E. Wisconsin Ave. Business will include adoption of the county chapter's charter of incorporation, a campaign report, discussions of the Sept. 20 annual meeting, state institute at Chula Vista at Wisconsin Dells, awards, scholarships and literature programs and the audit.

Forfeits for Conduct

MENASHA — Eugene Stokdyk, 53, 1912 Main St., today forfeited $14 for disorderly conduct. He was arrested at home Saturday night and jailed overnight.

Boys Follow Dream to Lucrative End

Hard Work Made 'Worthless' Caverns Financial Success

BY HAL BOYLE
TOWNSEND, Tenn. (AP)—Fortune is where you find it, but it takes a lot of imagination to see a profitable future in a worthless hole in the ground.

Two mountain boys here had that kind of imagination—and the kind of courage that enabled them to follow a dream that made them the laughing stocks of the valley for years.

But today Harry Myers and Bill Vananda are the proprietors of Tuckaleechee Caverns, one of the country's successful commercial caves.

The age-old cavern and its bubbling brook haunted the childhood of the two friends.

"We played Tom Sawyer in the main passage as kids," recalled Myers. "We explored it for three quarters of a mile, sometimes wiggling on our bellies and lighting our way with home-made lamps—pop bottles filled with kerosene."

In 1949, while drinking coffee in a Maryville College hangout, the pair fell to reminiscing about the cavern and decided to try to turn it into a tourist attraction.

Lonely Toil

The project did take a lot of gumption. Nobody would lend them money. Each of the young men was married and had two children. They went to Alaska and labored on construction jobs there to raise funds.

After four years of lonely toil—the two men carried in hundreds of tons of sand, cement and gravel on their backs to build steps and passageways—they opened the cave in 1953.

That first year the cave had only 2,000 visitors, and Myers and Vananda glumly wondered whether those who had laughed at them were right after all.

But they stubbornly worked on widening passageways, and the next year discovered one of the

3 Young People Speak To Legion Convention

Three Wisconsin young people were presented to the Sunday morning session of the State American Legion Convention in Oshkosh.

Thomas Tinkham, Wausau, presented his winning oration to the attending conventioners. He is the 1961 and 1962 State American Legion Oratorical Contest winner.

Giving short talks were Miss Bridget Cantlon, Eltrick, the 1962 Badger Girls State Governor and August Gnorzko, Kenosha, the 1962 Badger Boys State Governor.

of the story was, of course, Major General Clair Chennault, the Flying Tiger.

From their first meeting, a bond of friendship grew between the gentle daughter of China's consul in San Francisco and the indomitable general, more than twice her age. Years passed, but when love became too strong to ignore, he found ways to overcome the multiple barriers of race, religion and age.

Once married, they faced the strenuous task of fighting the Communist takeover of China by building up his new airline to help stimulate the country's economy by transporting goods and to save lives by airlifts and rescue missions. Their close ties with Gen. and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, their struggle to inform the free world of the significance of the Communist menace, and Chennault's relationship to other American military figures of the period are the backdrop for a tender love story.

Other New Books

Other new books include "How to Have More Money to Spend" by B. J. Lewis Strauss Writes New Autobiography

Admiral Lewis L. Strauss, the most controversial figure ever to head the Atomic Energy Commission, has written a free-swinging autobiography, one of the new books on display at the Appletan Public Library this week, in which he is determined to vindicate himself after the humiliation of nonconfirmation by the Senate of his final appointment by President Eisenhower.

The best of the material in his "Men and Decisions," however, covers the history of nuclear science, the Dixon-Yates wrangle, and profiles of Herbert Hoover (they have been friends since Strauss was 17), James Forrestal, and many famous nuclear scientists. Both his severe critics and his staunch admirers will find kernels of fascinating historical data here.

Another new autobiography is "A Thousand Springs" by Anna Chan Chennault. Anna Chan at 19 was the newest and youngest member of the Kunning bureau of the Chinese Central News Agency. Her first big assignment was covering the human interest angle of the U.S. 14th Air Force's participation in the Sino-Japanese War. The most interesting part of the story was, of course, Major General Clair Chennault, the Flying Tiger.

Press Living Blooms for Colorful Floral Pictures

BY CAPPY DICK

Pictures made of real flowers are fun to create. The results often will be far better than pictures you might draw.

First collect the flowers. Include stems and leaves. Select or two—just long enough for them to be easy to press. Best results will be had from flowers having only a few petals, and centers which are not very thick.

When you pick the flower, take note of the way it grows so that you can arrange the stem and leaves in their natural positions.

Riley Comedy Makes Debut in Fish Creek

Peninsula Players Production of 'Armored Dove' Tuesday Night

FISH CREEK — All the glamour of a full-scale Broadway opening will be at the world premiere of Nord Riley's comedy "The Armored Dove" when it opens a week's engagement at the Peninsula Players Theatre in a Garden on Tuesday, July 24th.

Taking its theme from the current controversies which surround our missile program, the play is a rib of the U. S. Air Force which finds itself pitted against an American housewife. A pacifist by nature, Peg O'Rourke takes a decidedly dim view of releasing the rights to a missile device which she quite legally controls.

All Channels Tune in on Telstar Today

BY TV SCOUT

All Channels — Telstar takes the spotlight tonight. The best-loved satellite will be in use twice today, to relay live programs between the U. S. and Europe. The American originated program will be transmitted early in the afternoon, but Europe's contribution should hit you just about dinner time. All three networks, of course, will carry this live. It is scheduled for "about 5 p.m." and the satellite's course should keep it within range of the two continents long enough for a 15 minute program. The entire offering from Europe is not known, but both England and France will take turns at originating it. There also will be later programs re-capping both ends of the transmission. ABC's recap, with Jules Bergman, is set for 7:30-8. CBS has set its summary for 7-7:30. See 9-10 for NBC's plans. The live European transmission will be preceded and followed, at each network, with some commentary and explanation.

6:30-7:30 (Channel 11) — Cheyenne's repeat has a rendezvous with some typical Western characters and two who are different. The two are Harry Shannon, as a priest who runs an orphanage, and Robert Crawford Jr. as one of his charges.

8-9 (Channel 2) — In this corner, Senorita Lucille Ball. In this corner, a bull. In a nutshell, that is the basic gag on tonight's repeat on The Lucy-Desi Comedy Hour.

8-9 (Channel 4-5) — 87th Precinct repeats its only flash-back story. After Gloria Talbott is murdered, the detectives talk to all those who knew her, and get several different pictures of the victim. This enables Miss Talbott to act four different types of woman.

9-10 (Channel 11) — Franchot Tone, who has played a good many alcoholics in his career, plays another one on Ben Casey's repeat tonight. Vincent Edwards' patient, Tone, was once a distinguished chemist. So Ben bucks hospital rules to let him work in the lab.

Old Pros Davis, Crawford Co-Star 'Peacefully' in New Hollywood Film

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What fun to have Joan Crawford and Bette Davis working in the same picture. What good old-timey, real-pro wonderful fun.

All you have to do is sit on the set of "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane?" and watch the sparks fly.

Davis, of course you know Joan that everybody is going to try to work up a feud between them.

Crawford, I know, dear, and she is a professional, for anything like that.

But she is a professional. And when she is too busy making the picture, she is too busy making the picture.

Crawford, of course you know Joan that everybody is going to try to work up a feud between them.

Elephants Appear As Exhibits in Kidnaping Trial

Chicago Daily News Service

CALCUTTA — To a court in New Delhi came two elephants as exhibits in a kidnaping case.

One of them, Lakshmi, is something of a star. She has led many a Republic Day parade in New Delhi. Snyamkali, the other elephant, is Lakshmi's sister.

When the trial judge came to inspect them, both elephants raised their trunks in greeting.

A youth and his father are accused of using the elephants to kidnap a beautiful 21-year-old, twice married woman. Worse, they virtually lifted her from the arms of her helpless second husband as she and her spouse walked to a village fair.

The youth in the case claims the girl was engaged to him before she was married, and so he had a prior claim to that of her second husband.

Police overtook the youth, his father, and the terrified girl as they rode their elephants into a happy-ever-after sunset. There is no verdict yet.

$15,000 Cello Stolen From Detroit Musician

DETROIT (AP) — Nathan Gordon, 47, a member of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, stopped in an East Side restaurant for a snack Sunday, returned to his car to find someone had stolen his $15,000 cello.

Gordon told police the instrument was insured but could not be bought for less than $15,000.

Artistic Director Will Stay With Shakespeare

STRATFORD, Ont. (AP) — Michael Langham has agreed to continue on as artistic director of the Shakespeare Festival for an extended period.

Langham took over the post in 1955, and had indicated recently he might wind up duties here to seek new challenge. He is expected to handle some London and Broadway projects during the winter theatrical season.

Author of 'Fantasticks' Writing Three Plays

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Jones, author of the book and lyrics for the off-Broadway long-run musical "The Fantasticks" is busy on three other plays.

Two one-acters, jointly entitled "Henry and Mortimer," are based on characters in the previous show. His third project is "Rat-fink," a musical on which he is collaborating with Harvey Schmidt for Broadway production.

A $2,000 National Foundation Health Scholarship in nursing is presented to Frances Nelson, daughter of William J. Nelson, 209 Jefferson St., Kaukauna, who is the first recipient of the scholarship in Outagamie County. From left are Mrs. Ray Bender, chairman of the Outagamie County chapter of the March of Dimes; Joseph Vareka, scholarship chairman for the county chapter, and Miss Nelson.

Kaukauna Girl Gets $2,000 Scholarship

First in County to Be Awarded Nursing Aid by Foundation

Frances Nelson, daughter of William J. Nelson, 209 Jefferson St., Kaukauna, has been awarded a $2,000 National Foundation Health Scholarship in nursing. She is the first recipient of the scholarship in Outagamie County.

Miss Nelson will enroll at the College of St. Teresa, Winona, Minn., in the fall. She is a 1962 graduate of Kaukauna High School.

The scholarship, with a total value of $2,000 for four years, is financed by public contributions to the March of Dimes.

Frances is the third of 11 children and has five brothers and five sisters. She became interested in nursing through her mother, who was a nurse.

The four-year nursing program at the College of St. Teresa includes three semesters at St. Mary Hospital, Rochester, Minn., which is connected with the Mayo Clinic.

At Kaukauna High School, Frances was a member of the National Honor Society, editor of the "Broadcaster" and the "Papyrus," the school paper and yearbook; president of her sophomore and junior classes, and vice president of the National Forensic League. She was active in debate, forensics, dramatics, glee club and mixed chorus, and her church choir.

This is the fourth year that the National Foundation has awarded scholarships in medicine, medical social work, nursing, physical therapy and occupational therapy. Recipients are selected in each state by committees composed of five state leaders in health fields. Since 1959, approximately 1,300 scholarships have been given.

Scholarship application deadline for the 1963-1964 academic year is April 1, 1963. Information is available at local high schools or through the Outagamie County Chapter of the March of Dimes. Joseph Vareka, scholarship chairman for the county chapter, said that some Wisconsin scholarships have not been awarded because of a lack of applicants.

Group to Study Religion's Effect

HAMMONTON, N. J. (AP)—Organized religion must accept some responsibility for causing mental illness in certain people, the director of the Academy of Religion and Mental Health contends.

Dr. George C. Anderson told a seminar on mental health at Ancora State Hospital near here that religion may lead persons into emotional illness by placing undue stress on perfectionism.

On the other hand, Dr. Anderson said, all great religions contain certain eternal truths that help to develop character, selflessness and charity—all signs of mental and spiritual health.

Pilots Should Have Problems in Flight

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Flying an ideal aircraft in ideal weather isn't always the safest way for a pilot to travel, a government psychologist says.

Things may be so good that the pilot isn't prepared for the unexpected. Dr. Richard Trumbull of the Office of Naval Research told a medical convention here.

The weather, flight plan and aircraft design can be so good and so simple and understanding of attention that misleading anticipatory behavior will result," he said.

Dr. Trumbull suggested the devising of "deliberate ways for grading 'too perfect' a situation in order to keep man alert and alive."

Legislators Hit Rut in Districting Houses Can't Get Together With Nelson on Proper Moves

BY JOHN WYNGAARD Post-Crescent Staff Writer
MADISON — The men who run the state legislature are on a treadmill, and they don't know how to get off.

That's the legislative story in a nutshell, as the law-makers wearily prepare to return to their desks this week—five weeks after Minn., in the fall. She is a 1962 graduate of Kaukauna High School.
